VICOM

Citrix solutions have been part of IT Enterprises for decades and have provided value by providing secure remote and mobile access, application virtualization, load balancing, collaboration and Cloud services.   The longevity of Citrix being a leader in the enterprise is in the ability to provide solutions that help organizations continually become more efficient—through the user of their technology—from the desktop, to the server, to network, to the Cloud.

When choosing Citrix solutions, it is imperative to work with a Solution Provider that understands the complete portfolio and will help ensure that the Citrix products and solutions being used or considered fit the specific needs and goals for your organization. They also must provide comprehensive architecture, design, and implementation services and have an deep understanding of how the Citrix environment is integrated and utilized with associated technologies including the desktop, server, storage, network and Cloud environments.

Vicom Computer Services, Inc. is a Citrix Silver partner and has provided Citrix solutions and services for over 15 years as well as overall IT infrastructure solutions and services for 30 years. We understand how Citrix fits within IT environments and take a holistic view of all of the technology within and how that technology can provide value. Vicom's teams of Architects and Engineers help our customers by architecting and designing the correct solution for a specific environment and provide thorough implementation services that utilize our deep understanding of all of the technologies within that environment.
